McKenzie-Mohr, D. & Oskamp, S. (1995). Psychology and the promotion of a sustainable future. Journal of Social Issues (special issue), 51(4).

Includes:

McKenzie-Mohr & Oskamp, Psychology and sustainability: An introduction

The Scope of the Problem

Olson, R. L., Sustainability as a social vision, 15-35.

Corson, W. H., Priorities for a sustainable future: The role of education, the media, and tax reform, 37-61.

Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Sustainability

Clark, M. E., Changes in Euro-American values needed for sustainability, 63-82.

Cobb, J. B., Jr., Toward a just and sustainable economic future, 83-100.

Milbrath, L. W., Psychological, cultural, and informational barriers to sustainability, 101-120.

Dunlap, R. E., & Mertig, A. G., Global concern for the environment: Is affluence a prerequisite? 121-137.

Psychological Contributions to Sustainability

McKenzie-Mohr, D., Nemiroff, L. S., Beers, L. & Desmarais, S., Determinants of responsible environmental behavior, 139-156.

Oskamp, S., Resource conservation and recycling: Behavior and policy, 157-177.

Geller, E. S., Integrating behaviorism and humanism for environmental protection, 179-195.

Friedman, M., On promoting a sustainable future through consumer activism, 197-215.

1994 SPSSI Presidential Address

Oskamp, S., Applying social psychology to avoid ecological disaster, 217-238